CHURCH NEWS All Saints Sutton is open for private prayer on Sundays from 10am-4pm.

Dear friends
Living out our faith

In the month of August, the Church of England remembers the lives of three people whose Christian faith inspired them to work for the good of others

Octavia Hill was born in 1838. As a teacher she was horrified at the conditions in which most of her pupils lived. Strongly motivated by her faith, Octavia managed to secure some finance with which she purchased some slum properties. These were then improved and rented out in a way that that combined financial viability with a genuine concern for the people renting them. The success of this approach led to more properties being built and Octavia became a key driving force of housing reform.

William Booth and Catherine Mumford were born in 1829 and married in 1855. They both had a deep concern for the plight of the poor, which led to them founding a Christian mission in Whitechapel, London in 1865. This mission was to become the Salvation Army in 1878, which become a worldwide movement with a strong commitment to caring for the poor.

We live in a country in which the economic fallout of the Corona virus epidemic has fallen most heavily on those who often have the least. Those without savings to fall back on, or whose employment is low paid and precarious. Our Christian faith should cause us to be concerned about people in this situation. We may not be able ourselves to undertake major initiatives such as Octavia Hill and the Booths did, but as individuals we can support those organisations who are supporting the lives of those who are struggling through no fault of their own. Mother Teresa of Calcutta summed it up as follows: 'It's not about how much you do, but how much love you put into what you do that counts.' Maybe as our country moves into a post Corona Virus world, maybe we will see our love for all members of society, particularly the least well off and vulnerable, grow stronger.

God Bless
Reverend Giles Team Rector

POLITE REQUEST FROM SHINGLE STREET RESIDENTS

Shingle Street has been particularly beautiful this year. A combination of sunny weather and bumper crops of Vipers Bugloss and Verbascum have cheered our locked-down hearts and made us prouder than ever to be custodians to our wonderful SSSI.

As the lockdown lifts, we've had more visitors than ever before – families desperate to escape their own back gardens, dog walkers in search of new frontiers, swimmers willing to brave the North Sea and more fisherman than you can shake a fish at.

We're delighted to welcome friends old and new, but would like to remind everyone that this rare and fragile landscape relies on all of us for protection.

To that end, could everyone pass the message along to visiting friends that there are no toilets here (nearest public facilities are at Bawdsey Quay) and that burying dog or human waste on the beach or using the surrounding land as a toilet is not a friendly solution – walkers have had too many unpleasant surprises and the abandoned loo paper doesn't do anything for the pristine beauty of the landscape. (If all else fails, perhaps borrow a doggy bag? And speaking of doggy bags, leaving them by the path "for later" has proven that we all have failing memories, and would do better to keep a firm hold throughout the walk.)

While we're offering reminders, there are just a few more -- no overnight camping, no beach fires, no BBQs (on or off the beach), and no parked cars on fragile verges or across access roads.

As for fishermen, please be aware that dogs have eaten left-behind hooks – causing a number of recent deaths and ruinous vet bills, so please be sure to take everything away with you.

And finally, a huge thank you to our habitual litter-picker friends from Hollesley and the surrounding area. You're our local heroes.

With everyone's help, we can keep Shingle Street safe and welcoming for our flora, fauna, residents and visitors.

Best wishes and stay safe,
The Residents of Shingle Street

DOG OWNERS in the light of all the recent dog thefts, just a reminder to be vigilant and to report any suspicious activity to the Police on 101.
